Three minor sisters, aged six, seven and ten respectively died on Saturday after consuming poisonous food last night.

The deceased sisters hailed from Matiaborei village under Sanakhemundi police limit in Ganjam district. They were staying with their grandfather at B Turubudi village under Digapahandi block.

According to sources, on December 25, the trio after consuming food was fast asleep when they complained of uneasiness and nausea. Following this, they were immediately rushed to Digapahandi hospital.

Later, they were shifted to MKCG Medical College and Hospital in Berhampur as their health condition deteriorated.

While the younger one died on Friday morning, the two other sisters succumbed today while undergoing treatment there.

While the exact reason behind the death of the minor girls is still unclear, preliminary investigation suggests that the trio died due to food poisoning.
