27-year-old woman dies of swine flu in Surat

Surat: A 27-year-old woman died of swine flu in Surat on Tuesday night. This was the first swine flu death this season, according to local health officials. A total of 18 people have tested positive for H1N1 virus in Surat this year. According to health officer of Surat Municipal Corporation Dr Ashish Chaudhary, the deceased was a resident of Bamroli area in Surat and was undergoing treatment in a private hospital. "She had fever with cough and cold and was getting treated by a local physician. As the fever continued to rise, she was admitted to Mission Hospital on August 28. The blood test and other tests confirmed that she had swine flu," said Chaudhary. ENS
